C. In the steering committee meeting [REDACTED] last week, in concurrence with the approval obtained from [REDACTED] it was proposed that a man from PAD be named as PI liaison [REDACTED] reports that this was very gratefully accepted. However, they wished to suggest that we consider assigning a man full time. In discussion with [REDACTED] it was decided that we would leave the proposal as suggested, that PAD furnish a liaison man, namely, [REDACTED] rather than considering a full time assignment at the present. We feel that this has several distinct advantages--namely, one PI does not handle all the substantive material of interest [REDACTED] and we question whether there would be enough work to keep a PI busy full time.
